1. special-T set Indulge with these luxurious whole-leaf teas. $24 for 15 infusers; teaforte.com

2. semi-homemade Too busy to whip up homemade treats? We love the dessert baking mixes from Barefoot Contessa Pantry. $10.95–$14.95; stonewallkitchen.com

3. bring on the bubbly Add a little pop to your next holiday party with some sparkling wine. We especially like Zardetto Prosecco, a New York Times “best value.” $10; thewinebuyer.com

4. heavy metals Impress the hostess when you give her these sleek silver-plated cheese knives. $28; redenvelope.com

5. lip service Ten different shades of gloss come in this mini-sized set, small enough to fit anywhere—even your pocket. $15; meetmark.com

6. well-read Nowadays you can find the latest in hardcover and paperback right in your supermarket. Wrap a few books with a pretty red ribbon and voilà, instant gift.

7. game on These retro games make adorable stocking stuffers. Choose from classics like tic-tac-toe, jacks and marbles. $10 each; papyrusonline.com
